

A HOT SPOT Chalmers gets the might out of gas

And puts it into action
—on an "impossible" hill
—on the boulevard where a ten yard spurt puts you ahead of a less responsive car
—on a country turnpike when supper is waiting.

On countless other occasions when "a little extra" is asked and "a little extra" is given the great Hot Spot engine supplies what you ask.

Hot Spot "cracks" the prevailing low grade gas into a very fine vapor and Ram's-horn then completes a task not a whit less important.

Ram's-horn gently and quickly "feeds" each cylinder of the six by the short 14-inch route to each and gives the same fresh, "powdered" gas to every cylinder alike.

Unless you're driving the new Chalmers some of your cylinders are often getting a rich gas and some a lean gas. That makes your engine run "choppy" on occasions.

A Hot Spot Chalmers runs like silk feels, and you experience a pride in your new Chalmers that is difficult to describe.

One ride generally convinces the hard-headed individual; and once a man is won to Chalmers ownership he'll swear he has one of the few great cars of the world.

DIRECTS WORK IN SCHOOLS; MANY VICTORY NOTES SOLD

MRS. WALTER GRAY.

Patriotic exercises in Memphis public schools, under the direction of Mrs. Walter Gray, member of the board of education, are resulting in much good, both in bringing bond subscriptions from the children themselves and also in helping them to inspire others to buy Victory bonds.

St. Paul school, Miss Cora Ashe, principal, has bought a $100 bond, following special exercises and an address by E. M. Williamson.

Bruce school has purchased a new flag, costing more than $100, and each classroom now has a silk flag and many of the pupils have bought bonds. Full reports on amount of bonds sold at the schools will be made at the end of Thursday's business.

LARGE APARTMENT HOUSE MAY SOON BE BUILT HERE

Owner of Apartment Property Finds Memphis Well Suited and Will Not Forbid Children.

The indications are that by Sept. 1, "moving day," Memphis will have an apartment building, constructed upon modern lines and with every convenience and facility that have made apartment life desirable and economical in other cities.

The plans have not yet matured, but a wealthy owner of apartments in one of the larger cities has spent several days in Memphis inspecting sites and making inquiry relative to location, price of real estate and cost of construction.

This gentleman has asked that his name be withheld for the present until he is able to speak more definitely of his purpose, but he admitted that there were many inducements offered by Memphis for an investment on a large scale.

Tentatively the plan is for a six-story building for the accommodation of not less than 100 families, the apartments to have from three to six rooms and rent for $25 to perhaps $30 a month. The service will include janitor, heat and water and elevators. It will have a reception hall, telephone exchange and conveniences usually found in hotels and modern apartments.

It is proposed also to have a grocery, drug store, bakery and other shops in the basement for the convenience of the tenants. Other apartment houses owned by this gentleman have such places, and he says they have operated profitably.

He says that the high cost of building material, which is not confined to Memphis but is universal, is largely offset in Memphis by the reasonableness of real estate. Some of the most desirable locations in the city may be purchased for less than the price offered for them elsewhere.

There is no doubt that a modern apartment house would have every apartment leased before the ground is broken for excavation. Owners of some of the larger desirable apartments have made themselves unpopular because of their hostility to children. Agents for one of the larger apartment houses on Madison street have year after year told the owner forbade any further leases to families with a child. Fortunately the terms of the lease did not forbid children from being born there or the refusal to re-lease to families with children would have been a disaster. The place is not quite so sterile in appearance as the owner intended it to be.

Playground for Children. The prospective builder says that he will have reasonable regulations governing the conduct of children. Agents and builders, they will be provided with playgrounds and given an outlet for their energy.

No estimate of even the probable cost of the building could be ventured at that feature was not gone into so much as the need for an apartment building, the necessity for finding a desirable location and other preliminaries.

Before returning to his home, the visitor declared that he was very impressed with the view to constructing a modern apartment building but at no place has he found more encouragement and greater inducement than in Memphis.

FRIDAY IS SAFETY DAY FOR STREET CAR MEN

Friday has been designated as safety day by local division No. 213, street car men's union and efforts will be made to operate all the city's street cars without an accident. Autoists and pedestrians are asked by the street car employees to aid in every way possible to prevent mishaps that day.

It is hoped that the good which will be brought about through the observance of all safety first rules Friday, will be carried on each day thereafter, with the attendant decrease in the number of accidents. Autoists and pedestrians are said to be preventable if care is exercised.

LIBRARIANS DISCUSS WORK IN TENNESSEE

A number of enthusiastic young women, librarians or assistants in the larger public libraries of the state, began a session of the Tennessee Library association Thursday morning, which will conclude during the afternoon with the election of officers.

The subjects covered included the organization of library staffs, the trend of public opinion in the reading of books, library finances, college and school libraries and other subjects in which all librarians are interested.

The discussion brought out the fact that war books, as is entirely natural, have been the most popular reading during the past year, and the librarians present all agreed that their favorite books had been the poems of Robert Nichols, George Kilmer, Siegfried Sassoon and other soldier-poets.

It was agreed that the greatest novel of the year was Ibsen's "The Four Horses of the Apocalypse."

Committees on nomination and resolutions were appointed at the morning session, which was held at the Goodwyn Institute. The visitors were entertained at luncheon at the Hotel Gayoso at 1 o'clock. Miss Margaret M. Kercheval, of the Carnegie library, president of the association, presiding.

EADS AND FISHERVILLE TO SHIP CAR OF HOGS

W. M. Landess, county agent, and H. O. Pate, market director of the Chamber of Commerce farm bureau, will go to Eads early Friday morning to weigh, check and start to market a carload of hogs fed by the live stock farmers of Eads and Fisherville for the past six weeks for co-operative shipment.

Mr. Landess will accompany the car, which will contain more than 100 hogs. A similar shipment will be made Saturday from Capeville and in a week or two another will go from Eads and Fisherville. Mr. Landess has found more applicants for space in the car to leave these two communities Friday than can be taken care of and the next shipment will provide for this surplus.

CRITTENDEN COUNTY TO SHIP HOGS TO MEMPHIS

The Crawfordville community of Crittenden county, Arkansas, will make a co-operative shipment of a carload of hogs to the Memphis-Wyoming stock yards Monday, according to announcement made by the Chamber of Commerce farm bureau. The shipment will be made under the direction of J. R. Critt, agricultural agent of Crittenden county, who desires to test out the live stock market in Memphis.

This is a plan that is being rapidly taken up by the county agents of the tri-state territory in the effort to co-operate with the farm bureau campaign to make Memphis the live stock and general farm produce marketing center of the territory.

NEGROES ARE VICTIMS.

Attention of the local chapter of the Red Cross has been directed to the victimization of negro citizens by a white man, dressed as a soldier, who it is said, represents himself to be a Red Cross worker. Slandering colored residents are sold the negroes at 50 cents to $1 each.

The first intimation of this business was brought to the attention of the local chapter when negroes began coming into the offices asking that the Red Cross fill out the rank and service of the soldier in whose memory or honor the picture was purchased.

Red Cross officials declare they will prosecute the man if he is apprehended.
